

PROPTech

PROPTech PIONEERS

Advising the innovators and investors in the growing PropTech space demands a firm with robust practices in both the real estate industry and the technology sector.

Goodwin's groundbreaking PropTech practice, the first of its kind among leading global law firms, combines the legal experience and market savvy of its real estate industry group with its innovative and entrepreneurial technology companies practice to total more than 350 lawyers facing the market.

Through our strong relationships in the Real Estate and Tech space, from London to Frankfurt and Paris across the United States and Hong Kong, we can help make the right connections – not just to connect the dots but to help make decisions that prepare your business for what may come.

“Goodwin is uniquely positioned to service both our real estate and technology company clients throughout the entire lifecycle of any PropTech undertaking”

BY THE NUMBERS:

Goodwin's network spans the globe with our PropTech professionals located in key markets throughout the United States and Europe.
